

Core Competencies

Critical Thinker

Critical thinkers analyze, question, and synthesize ideas to evaluate information, make inferences, draw conclusions, establish patterns, make connections, and solve problems in authentic contexts.

Effective Communicator

Effective communicators express ideas clearly, use active listening skills, and consider audience types, purposes, and settings using appropriate resources to enhance expression and conversation.

Global Contributor

Global contributors have the agency to learn about and respond to the community's social and environmental needs. They bring awareness to these needs through projects and solutions that inspire change and make the world a better place.

Inclusive Collaborator

Inclusive collaborators work together, show empathy, and respect others. They involve all group members in working towards a common goal.

Inspired Creator

Inspired creators use creativity, imagination, and innovation. They have the agency and choice to generate ideas and then determine the best way to design and create original artifacts and solutions that demonstrate their process from idea to final product.

Resilient Learner

Resilient learners are confident individuals committed to the never-ending pursuit of knowledge. They take risks and persevere when faced with challenges, adapt to new situations, stay curious, take initiative, set goals, and accept feedback. They are agents of their learning.

Wellness

Wellness includes mental, physical, and social health. A person with wellness knows about nutrition, engages in physical activity, is aware of feelings and moods, develops a passion for life, and fosters positive relationships and interactions while limiting at-risk behaviors.